PACKET

2019-
2020

Welcome

Clayton Junior Woman's Club meets on the third Tuesday of the month, typically at the historic Women's Club of Clayton Clubhouse.

Women of all ages, backgrounds and interests work together to make their communities, their state and their nation a better place in which to live.

We welcome any woman who desires the opportunity for the friendship and fulfillment that comes from volunteering.

The Clayton Junior Woman's Club commits to making a positive difference within our community!

This packet provides information about our membership and how to become part of our growing club.

We look forward to sharing our club with you.

General Federation of Women's Clubs

GENERAL FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS GFWC-NC acts as part of the General Federation of Women's Clubs (GFWC), one of the world's largest and oldest non-denominational, nonpartisan, international volunteer service organizations of women. More than 6,500 local clubs in the United States.

Since its founding in 1890, the General Federation of Women's Clubs provide a unifying force, bringing together local women's clubs from around the country and throughout the world united by a dedication to community improvement through volunteer service.

Accomplishments during GFWC's first century include: establishing 75 percent of the country's public libraries, developing kindergartens in the public schools, and working for food and drug regulation. With "Unity in Diversity" as our motto and a strong umbrella of programs that clubs may adapt to suit the needs of their communities, GFWC encourages flexibility that enables us to expand our reach in a rapidly changing society.

Clubs shape their local agendas to suit their particular community needs. They benefit from membership services, materials and program support from state and national Federation levels working through the six areas of Arts, Conservation, Education, Home Life, International Outreach and Public Issues.

From our historic Headquarters in Washington, D.C., GFWC leaders and staff offer support and guidance to more than 100,000 members and more than 4,000 clubs, who collaborate on projects that touch lives in their own hometowns and around the globe. GFWC earned a reputation as a powerful force in the fight against domestic violence. In 1994, GFWC founder Jane Cunningham Croly received induction into the National Women's Hall of Fame in Seneca Falls, N.Y. for her work in founding GFWC. Croly "set in motion the power of a vast, previously untapped and unorganized sisterhood of capable American women that would reshape American society."

Our members work each day to continue this legacy and to reshape their communities to enhance the lives of others.
